

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

Anyone who knows will agree with us that there is no better germ killer and general disinfectant, as well as being a wonderful cleanser and purifier than

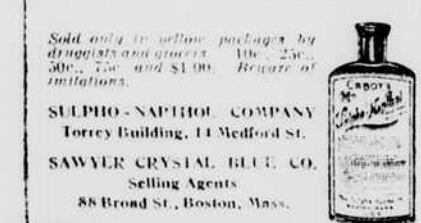

Cabot's Sulpho-Naphthol

What is more, this efficient "Liquid Cleanser" accomplishes its mission at a minimum cost.

To be sure it has imitators. All good things have. Some substitutes can be bought for half the price, and the fact of admitting that they may have some virtue, even under these conditions, they are more expensive in the end than the genuine.

With Cabot's Sulpho-Naphthol it is necessary to use only one-tenth the quantity that manufacturers of substitute recommend necessary for their products in order to obtain results.

Therefore when you have the original you are getting the genuine and besides, that it only costs one-tenth as much in the end as doubtful imitations. Any reliable dealer will endorse these statements.

PILES BRING DESPAIR.

Take Courage! Internal Treatment Will Cure.

Piles make life unhappy and ruin the best disposition. Most sufferers have been bitterly disappointed by many failures to find a cure. A medicine in tablet form, taken internally, that avoids the unpleasant features of ointments, suppositories and operations, and cures thoroughly by removing the inside cause, is surely worth trying, especially as E. J. Leonard's Hem-Roid costs $1 for a large box—21 days' treatment. Dr. Leonard's Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

SKIN HUMOR 25 YEARS

"Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely robbing my head, neck and shoulders, so even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the—Hoped, during six months' efforts. I suffered on and concluded there was no hope for me this side of the grave. Then I heard of one who had been cured by Cuticura Remedies and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured. S. P. Keyes, 147 Congress St., Boston, Mass., Oct. 12, 1909."

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

"I congratulate Cuticura upon my speedy recovery from pimples which covered my face. I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent for ten days and my face cleared and I am perfectly well. I had tried doctors for several months but got no results. Wm. J. Hadler, 1614 Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, May 1, 1909."

STATE HOUSE CALENDAR.

Next Meeting of Governor and Council Tuesday, May 31, at 10 A. M.

Announcement was made at the Executive department Thursday of the following letter, which has been addressed by the Governor to the heads of departments and trustees of State institutions:

STATE OF MAINE. EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Augusta, May 2, 1910.

To Heads of Departments and Boards of Trustees of State Institutions:

I wish to call your attention to the amendment to the constitution of the State, popularly known as the Initiative and Referendum, which was adopted by vote of the people at the last State election and became effective on the first Wednesday of January, 1909, in its relation to appropriations. Under the provisions of this amendment, "No act or joint resolution of the Legislature, except such orders or resolutions as pertain solely to facilitating the performance of the business of the Legislature, of either branch, or of any committee or officer thereof, or for the payment of salaries fixed by law, shall take effect until ninety days after the recess of the Legislature passing it, unless in case of emergency."

The last Legislature adjourned on April 5, 1909, so that no appropriation other than those few of the classes excepted by the amendment, became available until July 3, 1909. A similar situation will arise next year. Appropriations made by the next Legislature cannot be drawn upon until ninety days after its adjournment, or probably about July 1, 1911. In view of this change in our fundamental law, it is necessary that the appropriations made by the Legislature of 1909 shall cover your expenditures to and including June 30, 1911—except of course, in the case of charges fixed by law—in lieu of as would have been the case heretofore, until Dec. 31, of this year. I am therefore calling your attention at this time to the matter, that you may make your arrangements to meet the changed conditions. The effect of this order I am well aware is to extend over a period of two and one-half years the appropriations made by the last Legislature, but it is my duty to adhere strictly to the laws of the State as I find them. It will be necessary to exercise the most rigid economy in every direction, but I trust it can be done without serious injury to any important interest of the State.

NO APPETITE STRENGTH OR AMBITION

A Pennsylvania Woman Whose Health Did Not Return After Child-birth Tells How She Was Cured.

As a woman's health is dependent upon the condition of the blood, every mother, who fails to regain her strength after childbirth, should hasten her return to health and save herself from years of unnecessary suffering, by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a thorough trial. The pure, new blood, which the pills make, strengthens the weakened system until health is restored.

Mrs. Joseph A. Mong, whose address is Sugar Creek, R. F. D., Franklin, Pa., says:

"I suffered for ten months after the birth of one of my children and was in a terribly weak and run-down condition. I had no appetite, my stomach was weak and I had no ambition to work. My food would distress me so that I felt as though my stomach was on fire. I suffered from nausea, had sick headaches and would be dizzy and faint. I had severe pains in the small of my back and around my heart upon the slightest exertion, like going upstairs or doing heavy housework. I was under a doctor's care, and he said that my heart would skip beats. He gave me treatment but it did not help me. I also suffered from total weakness at the time.

"My sister-in-law, who had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with good results, advised me to try them. I experienced relief from the first box. My appetite returned, my stomach trouble left me and I was soon restored to health."

As most of the diseases from which women suffer are directly caused by a lack of blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been found unequalled in the treatment of anemia, green sickness, delayed development, leucorrhea and all irregularities arising from impure or watery blood and weak nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain nothing that could injure the most delicate system and are guaranteed to be free from opium and narcotics. Every mother should have our booklets, "Plain Talks to Women" and "Care of the Baby," which will be sent free upon postal card request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

MEN AS SHOPLIFTERS.

Tradesmen Find Men More Prone to Petty Thievery Than Women.

Women, when in the department stores, are so intent on bargain hunting they have little time to think of shoplifting, according to the managers of the largest stores in London. Harry Selfridge, who was at one time a member of the firm of Marshall Field & Co., qualifies this by saying that when a woman does become a shoplifter it is due to a perversion of the bargain-hunting instinct.

Mr. Selfridge, whose experience in both America and England qualifies him to judge, declares the British stores are not sufferers to the same extent as are those in America. The habit, however, is on the increase in London, according to the police statistics and the statement of the managers.

Tradesmen find that men are more prone to petty thievery than are women. The class of criminals who enter this field are generally of the lower type and not brilliant enough to execute any large robbery. When sufficiently indulged in, the habit cannot be shaken off, and it is only a question of time until the culprit is caught. Shoplifting on the part of women is due to a craving for an article which causes the afflicted one to lose moral consciousness. If successful, the second step is simple, and thereafter they continue in the false path until caught.—Washington Herald.

ANCIENT CUSTOM.

Berkshire Townsman Summoned To Annual Court By Town Crier.

On the morning of April 5, in the town of Hungerford in Berkshire, England, the gold-laced town crier, according to ancient custom, sounded again and again upon John o' Gaunt's carved horse head to summon the commoners to the annual blacked court, and to the ceremonies and festivities connected with the same. Those prevented from attending were, according to custom, excused upon the payment of a fine of 1 penny.

The chief personage in the town bears the title of constable. This gentleman is also, by right of his office, master of the market. There are also appointed two other gentlemen whose duty it is to keep the keys of the common coffer. Behind the constable's chair on this particular day stand two officers. These are the "tutt-men," two of the citizens chosen from among the commoners and qualified by gravity of demeanor and uprightness of character for the duties they are called upon to undertake.

On the conclusion of the court's business the John o' Gaunt's horse is once

The house in Wells in which lived the Rev. Daniel Little, the first pastor of the Second parish in that town is still standing and in good condition. The Rev. This relation was by the marriage of Dr. Joseph Gilman, son of Tristram Gilman of North Yarmouth, to Hannah, daughter of the Rev. Daniel Little.

The Rev. Daniel Little was one of the noted men of his time. He was an early missionary to the Penobscot Indians, and was the first man to translate the Lord's Prayer in the language of the Penobscots. He was one of the commissioners appointed to make the treaty with these Indians.

THE OLD NEGRO MAMMY.

Many Millions Have Enjoyed Her Kindly ministrations.

We see that the galveston people who proposed in the first place to erect a monument to the old colored mammy have been prevailed upon to transfer the location to Washington, making it a national affair and inviting all parts of the country to contribute. It is a good and pleasant opportunity, in our opinion, and we should like to see the whole nation take part in it. Storyed urns and sacred edifices have been placed in all parts of our land, dedicated to memories good, bad and indifferent and to achievements noble, beneficent or otherwise. We see, however, some of them too cheap to quote, carving on stationary but foaming horses, and mark the attitudes of sculptured patriots and statesmen, most of whom are planted in our private pantheons and immortalized in grateful memory. But we encounter also the effigies of mud-stained publicists and futile warriors and questionable benefactors. Nothing more or less could be expected. We let it go at that. All of us, however, can unite upon the old black mammy, the millions who have enjoyed her kindly ministrations and the other and more numerous millions who have only heard of them.—New York Sun.

TO SMOKE A PIPE.

Tobacco Should Burn the Same As a Coal Fire.

"Either a tobacco or a coal fire should burn the same way," said an old pipe smoker the other day. "By that I mean that it should burn in a slightly conical shape, evenly on all sides and in the middle, until it is down to the ashes. That is the reason that so many pipe smokers never get the good out of their tobacco and throw more than half of it away."

"It is a usual superstition with pipe smokers that a pipe is not good and sweet and even burning until it has 'cooled,' or 'caked' about the sides. That is a pure fallacy. It is a matter of fact that some smokers 'cake' a pipe much sooner than others, for some reason with which I am not acquainted, nor have I ever heard any plausible argument as to the exact reason. But a man who wants a good smoke should keep this 'cake' out away from the inside of his pipe always."

"The interior of the bowl must be kept smooth. Otherwise, the tobacco will only burn in the center and will not be consumed toward the rim. When it is lighted the tobacco will smolder down through the center and finally go out, with only half the charge actually smoked. Peking down the unburned tobacco on top of the coal only makes the smoke rank and causes the pipe to become foul."

"Any man who knows how to build a good fire in his fireplace and keep it in good condition during a cold snap should have no difficulty in applying the same logic and method to his pipe. And it stands to reason that if it is the proper way to burn coal it is also the proper way to burn tobacco. It will cut down the bills a good deal if you smoke all the tobacco and don't waste it. And, better still, it will enable the smoker to have a sweet, cool, even smoke."

THE SPELLING QUESTION.

Pennsylvania School Superintendent Plans Series of Spelling Bees.

There is a prevalent conviction, whether justified by the facts or not, that the school children of today are not so thoroughly trained in spelling as were the pupils of a generation or two ago.

A school superintendent of a county in Pennsylvania has planned for a series of spelling bees to be held throughout the county, and has prepared a book of 500 practical everyday words. Prizes will be awarded to the winners in the contests.
